

Who we are

The Economic Development Authority for Citrus County (EDACC) is a non-profit 501(c)(3) investor driven organization guided by a Board of Directors. Originally established in 1999 as a public/private partnership, it was reorganized as a fully private non-profit in 2015. EDACC was established to partner with the local government in recruiting diversified industry to Citrus County, provide private sector support, and to provide a funding vehicle for businesses to invest in the long-term vitality of our region.

What we do

As the lead economic and community development organization in Citrus County, we strive to be your convenient, single point of contact for assistance on starting, expanding, and relocating your business. We work with company executives, site selectors, real estate consultants, and educational institutions by providing...

- Site and building locations
- Industry information and community data
- Local and state incentive programs and grants
- Workforce training and special programs

Why join

Here at the EDACC, we embrace the power of alignment. We strongly believe that the prosperity of our local economy depends on collaboration with business owners and public and private leaders. We are dedicated to nurturing the growth and prosperity of our business community to make Citrus County a better place to learn, earn, and live. Our investors follow our passion about raising community awareness and engagement and aligning our efforts to bring businesses and jobs to Citrus County.
